I see nothing worng with the present structure of the amateur redio requirements except the requirements for morse code. Morse code should be totally removed from all amateur radio requirements. Thanks.